SAUNA

Steam bath

42–45°C
100% HUMIDITY

The Steam bath or Turkish bath particularly benefits the respiratory system and mucous membranes. In combination with aromas it has an antibacterial effect and stimulates metabolism. In addition, sitting in a steam bath has an obvious positive effect on beauty. Especially in combination with a peeling it rejuvenates and nourishes the skin. After a session in the Turkish bath a tepid shower and long recovery is recommended.

Finnish sauna

80–90°C
5–15% HUMIDITY

The Finnish sauna is a hot dry air bath with intermediate cooling breaks and has a positive effect on your health. The alternation of hot and cold phases favours the circulation in the skin and mucous membranes, gently trains the cardiovascular system, regulates blood pressure and blood distribution and strengthens the body immune system against infections. Furthermore, it cleanses the skin and promotes cell regeneration and has a relaxing effect on psyche and muscles.

Bio sauna

55–65°C
15–30% HUMIDITY

It is ideal for beginners and for all those who do not tolerate extreme heat, but do not want to disclaim the benefits of the sauna. Although the temperature is clearly lower than in the Finnish sauna, a sweat bath is guaranteed in any case.

Sauna properly

\\ Take time for your sauna session! Avoid stress during a sauna session, relaxation has primary importance.

\\ Before sauna, take a shower and dry yourself well.

\\ For each session we recommend a stay of between 10 and 15 minutes, depending on personal well-being. Leave the sauna when you no longer feel comfortable.

\\ Never enter in the sauna with cloths.

\\ Refresh yourself after a sauna session. Take a breath in the fresh air and then refresh your body with cold water or ice: first your arms and legs, then your back and stomach - from the extremities towards your heart - and then your head.

\\ Rest with your body wrapped in a warm bathrobe. Between sauna sessions we recommend a recovery period of at least 30 minutes.

The effect of the sauna

Sweating in the sauna trains the body's thermoregulation system.

The alternation of hot and cold stimulates the blood vessels of the skin and the mucous membranes of the respiratory tract. In this way the body learns to adapt to different temperatures.

The result is, the body is better able to fight cold viruses and prevent the flu.

SAUNA

Sauna dresscode

The sauna is a nudist area: access is only granted without a bathing suit. A towel can be used to cover yourself in the sauna area. The entire sauna area is accessible only with bath slippers. Use the Turkish bath without slippers and without towel. For hygienic reasons and to protect the wood, please use a towel to sit on when using the low humidity cabins and refrain from wearing bath slippers.

Why do you enter naked in the sauna?

The sauna is an area where you enter naked because the heat radiated inside the sauna must be able to reach the skin unhindered and also sweating should not be blocked by clothing. It is also neither pleasant and not hygienic to sweat in a swimsuit, especially if it's made of synthetic material.

USEFUL INFORMATION

Be on time

To ensure that your treatment specialist can prepare your custom treatment and that you can enjoy your full treatment time, we kindly request that you arrive at the spa reception about 10 minutes before the start of your treatment. Out of respect for other guests, we ask that you understand that if you are late to your treatment, it will result in a reduction of your treatment time.

Clothing

Please come to your treatment in a bathrobe. To protect your privacy, we offer a single-use garment for each treatment and work with various masking techniques.

Cancellations

Appointment cancellations should be made at least 24 hours before the start of the treatment. We must unfortunately charge full price for cancellations any later than this.
